LODE CLAIM GROUPS OF THE SOUTHWESTERN BROOKS RANGE COPPER BELT, AMBLER RIVER AND SURVEY PASS QUADRANGLES, ALASKA
(FILED PRIOR TO JANUARY, 1976)

By J.T. Kline

These maps are intended to show the approximate location of lode claim groups staked within the southwestern Brooks Range copper belt prior to January 1976.

A total count of claims filed has not been made. Although claim-group boundaries have been drawn as accurately as possible from the data filed with the State of Alaska's Fairbanks district recording office, these maps are not intended to constitute a legal document.

Because active mineral exploration is continuing in this area, the claim status shown on this map will undoubtedly change. It is hoped, however, that the maps will provide a useful base for those persons and companies working in the copper belt who may wish to maintain a current land status plot.
